NECESSARY APPROVALS Senate, President

ISSUE

In March 2019, the President approved revisions to the University of Maryland Policy on Use of University of Maryland Facilities by Non-University Users for Research-Related Activities (VIII-14.00[A]) on an interim basis, pending University Senate review. In September 2019, the Senate Executive Committee (SEC) charged the Campus Affairs Committee with reviewing the interim policy, consulting with a range of stakeholders, reviewing similar policies at Big 10 and peer institutions, considering whether the interim policy accurately reflects current practice and ensures sufficient oversight of research taking place in University facilities, and recommending changes, as appropriate.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The Campus Affairs Committee recommends that the interim Policy on Use of University of Maryland Facilities by Non-University Users for Research-Related Activities (VIII-14.00[A]) be revised as indicated in the policy document immediately following this report.

COMMITTEE WORK

The committee reviewed the interim policy, and over the course of fall 2019 consulted with a wide range of stakeholders. The committee identified issues with the current policy including, a cumbersome and inefficient review and approval process and a lack of meaningful oversight and accountability. The committee also investigated practices at Big 10 and peer institutions, but did not find any comprehensive policies that address the types of agreements covered by the policy. Over the course of spring 2020, the committee revised the policy to address the concerns it identified, emphasize key principles, clarify the responsibilities of both external users and the University, and align the policy's structure and language with University policy conventions. The most substantive revisions address the overarching concerns involving process and questions of oversight and accountability. The revisions were informed by extensive stakeholder consultation, particularly with representatives of the Division of Research; the Senior Vice President & Provost; the Department of Environmental Safety, Sustainability & Risk; and the Office of General Counsel. The revised policy was shared with the University Research Council, which proposed minor revisions that the committee incorporated.

After due consideration, the committee voted to approve the revised Policy on Use of University of Maryland Facilities by Non-University Users for Research-Related Activities by an email vote concluding on April 12, 2020.

ALTERNATIVES

The Senate could reject the proposed revised policy and the interim policy would remain in place. However, the University would lose the opportunity to improve and clarify an unwieldy process and better protect the University.

RISKS

There are no associated risks to the University in adopting this recommendation.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

There are no known financial implications for the University in adopting this recommendation.

BACKGROUND

In March 2019, the President approved revisions to the University of Maryland Policy on Use of University of Maryland Facilities by Non-University Users for Research-Related Activities (VIII-14.00[A]) on an interim basis, pending University Senate review. In September 2019, the Senate Executive Committee (SEC) charged the Campus Affairs Committee with reviewing the interim policy and related documentation; consulting with a range of stakeholders; reviewing similar policies at Big 10 and peer institutions; considering whether the interim policy accurately reflects current practice and ensures sufficient oversight of research taking place in University facilities; and recommending changes, as appropriate (Appendix 3).

CURRENT PRACTICE

The policy addresses the use of University facilities for research-related activities that are unrelated to the University's research mission, as well as other activities that support research that take place in a limited number of areas on or near campus. The policy encompasses research-related activities conducted by "non-University" or "external" users, but it does not address research activities undertaken by University faculty, staff, or students in connection with their own employment or studies. External users can be individuals, companies, or entities that have no affiliation with the institution, or, more commonly, faculty members who have created or are considering creating private companies. The research conducted by these faculty members must be kept separate from their University-related research and cannot involve University students.

The research-related activities covered by the policy primarily occur in two types of spaces. The first consists of incubators intended to encourage faculty to explore ways to commercialize their research. Incubators help faculty members identify potential markets for their innovations and support them through the process required to actually bring a product to market. The most significant of these incubators is the Maryland Technology Enterprise Institute, or Mtech. Mtech is part of the Clark School of Engineering, and includes a range of spaces in the Rabin Building on campus as well as off-campus laboratory and office space. While incubator spaces are designed for purposes that align with this policy, the policy also enables the use of spaces within existing academic facilities that are typically used for University research. External users can use portions of laboratories or office spaces that are not currently in use, or can use them at particular hours when such use will not interfere with the normal activities of the University. The University has priority use of these spaces.

To use such spaces, external users must sign a Facilities Use License. The current process for creating a license is outlined in an application form accompanying the policy, referred to as Exhibit A (Appendix 2), which is used to gather necessary information and which indicates mandatory meetings with various administrators and University oversight bodies before a license can be approved. Steps required by the review process include signatures by:

- the relevant department chair (or equivalent) and the relevant dean;
- the Department of Environmental Safety, Sustainability & Risk (ESSR);
- the Conflict of Interest Committee;
- the Senior Vice President & Provost;
- the Director of Facilities Planning;
- the Facilities Council; and
- the Vice President for Administration & Finance (in consultation with the Office of General Counsel, as necessary).

At present, the review and approval process involves transferring physical copies of applications between offices.

Facilities Use Licenses are established for one-year terms, with the possibility for renewal at the University's sole discretion. The policy does not establish any initial or subsequent reviews or inspections to ensure compliance with the terms of the Facilities Use License. To date, there have been relatively few licenses established under the interim policy, though their number will likely increase in response to the University's focus on entrepreneurship and increasing interest in licensing the University's intellectual property.

In March 2019, the policy was revised on an interim basis, pending Senate review. The revisions reflected in the interim policy were necessary to clarify the policy's provisions and definitions, align the policy with current practice, and more clearly indicate that users are responsible for disposing of hazardous materials upon the expiration of a Facilities Use License. The interim policy also introduced Exhibit A, a more extensive form used to gather the information necessary to consider an application and inform the creation of the Facilities Use License.

COMMITTEE WORK

The committee reviewed the interim policy and Exhibit A, and over the course of fall 2019 consulted with a wide range of stakeholders, including representatives of the following:

- A. James Clark School of Engineering
- Conflict of Interest Committee
- Department of Environmental Safety, Sustainability & Risk (ESSR)
- Division of Administration and Finance
- Division of Research

- Facilities Council
- Maryland Technology Enterprise Institute (Mtech)
- Office of General Counsel (OGC)
- Office of Technology Commercialization
- Office of the Senior Vice President & Provost

The committee identified concerns and questions that stakeholders indicated should be resolved, which fall under two general categories: process, and oversight/accountability.

The committee also investigated similar policies and practices at Big 10 and peer institutions. While institutions have policies governing the use of space and how such use is prioritized, most entrepreneurial work by faculty takes place in dedicated incubators rather than academic spaces, and the committee did not find any comprehensive policies that address the types of agreements covered by the interim policy. If the use of non-incubator spaces is permitted, there are agreements to use specialized equipment or space that are handled on an individual basis, and involve conflict of interest reviews and licensing agreements similar to the University's Facilities Use License.

Over the course of spring 2020, the committee revised the interim policy to address the concerns it identified. The committee reorganized and reworded the policy to align with University policy conventions, emphasize principles, and clarify the responsibilities of both external users and the University. The most substantive revisions address the overarching concerns identified in the course of the committee's review, which involve process and questions of oversight and accountability. The revisions were informed by extensive stakeholder consultation, particularly with representatives of the Division of Research, the Senior Vice President & Provost, ESSR, and the Office of General Counsel. The revised policy was shared with the Research Council, which proposed minor revisions that the committee incorporated. After due consideration, the committee voted to approve the revised Policy on Use of University of Maryland Facilities by Non-University Users for Research-Related Activities by an email vote concluding on April 12, 2020.

Key concerns identified by the committee's review and policy revisions that address them are described below.

Process

The committee found widespread frustration with the current system for considering and approving applications, particularly its reliance on paper materials. Applications have been delayed for weeks or even months since the current process of reviewing and approving applications is sequential. Through discussion, the committee and the Vice President for Research (VPR) agreed that the Division of Research should manage and maintain the application in order to reduce this frustration. The Division of Research intends to adopt an electronic approach that will eliminate the need for paper copies, allow for electronic signatures and parallel reviews, permit easy tracking of an application from submission to final approval, and create a more robust archive accessible to all the administrators involved in the review process. This application will be maintained and updated separately from the policy, which eliminates the need to retain Exhibit A.

The structure of the interim policy has led to some uncertainty over what is involved in each stage of the review, and what precisely is being affirmed by each approval. For example, it is unclear to some stakeholders that the review conducted by the Department of Environmental Safety, Sustainability & Risk (ESSR) is limited to determining what materials or substances may be brought into a particular space. Through its consultations, the committee also learned that the review and approval process may be too extensive. For instance, concerns that would be found in a review by the Director of Facilities Planning or the Facilities Council are typically also raised by others involved in the review process. The committee found that the current process is too rigid, and is not appropriate for some activities covered by the policy. For example, applications by external users who are interested in leasing a mailbox or standard office space go through the full review process, including review by ESSR, which is unnecessary. This is partly because the “research-related activities” covered by the policy are not defined.

The revised policy streamlines the review process by eliminating unnecessary stages and giving the VPR the ability to determine whether a review by ESSR is necessary for each application. The VPR is also given responsibility for overseeing the application review process, and for ensuring that all necessary approvals are obtained. The policy now identifies what each administrator is responsible for reviewing and verifying, and includes a definition of “research-related activity.”

Oversight/Accountability

The interim policy states that it is intended to “ensure compliance...with federal, state and local laws and regulations.” However, concerns were raised that the policy and its implementation do not adequately ensure such compliance due to a lack of oversight and accountability. This potentially endangers both members of the University community and external users, and could expose the institution to liability.

The committee found that the policy lacks an administrative owner, in that no office or officer is identified as responsible for administering the policy, overseeing the application review process, or verifying whether the terms of the Facilities Use License are being followed. While several stages involve the Division of Research, and while the Division of Research has typically assumed responsibility for shepherding applications through the review process, stakeholders indicated that there would be value in clarifying lines of authority and responsibility. The revised policy addresses these concerns by identifying the VPR as responsible for administering the policy. The VPR’s role will include.

- certifying that an application is complete and recommending whether it should be advanced to the licensing process;
- receiving and reviewing documentation of the external user’s compliance with any oversight requirements, both during the application process and during the term of the Facilities Use License;
- reviewing requests for renewal of a Facilities Use License; and
- overseeing the process of closing out expired or terminated licenses.

The committee also found that the policy does not clearly articulate the role and responsibilities of the “University Sponsor” who supports the proposed research-related activity. The role of the University Sponsor has now been more fully defined. Sponsors are responsible for ensuring oversight of the space being used for the research-related activity, and for participating in the closeout process.

The process for reviewing applications does not include extensive review of safety and regulatory compliance issues. Multiple stakeholders expressed concerns with the role of ESSR. ESSR’s responsiveness and its prompt review of applications was universally praised. However, its review does not involve the same assessments that it makes when considering the use of University facilities for University research activities. For external users, ESSR does not assess whether an environmental health and safety program is necessary, and does not ensure that an external user has identified a qualified vendor to dispose of regulated waste. ESSR is also not involved in reviewing safety-related compliance prior to the renewal of a Facilities Use License. Without more extensive reviews and assurances that regulations are being followed, the University cannot ensure that risk and compliance issues are being adequately addressed. To address these concerns, the role of ESSR has been expanded. In the course of its review of an application, ESSR will now be responsible for recommending whether the external user should be required to employ or contract with a qualified environmental health and safety professional and/or develop a plan to dispose of any regulated waste. Any requirements identified by ESSR will be written into the terms of the Facilities Use License, and compliance with them verified prior to any license renewal.

The revised policy also addresses how Facilities Use Licenses are renewed and establishes parameters for how they are closed out upon expiration or termination. The policy gives the VPR responsibility for overseeing both processes. The renewal process involves a review by the VPR that parallels the initial application review but is tailored to the specific research-related activity. The policy now establishes elements of a closeout process involving the University Sponsor that ensures an external user has left the space in good and secure condition, disposed of any waste or hazardous materials, and generally fulfilled their obligations under the terms of the Facilities Use License.

RECOMMENDATIONS

The Campus Affairs Committee recommends that the interim Policy on Use of University of Maryland Facilities by Non-University Users for Research-Related Activities (VIII-14.00[A]) be revised as indicated in the policy document immediately following this report.

- E. Once approved by the University representatives, the Assistant Director of Space Planning and Leasing will be responsible for finalizing the Facilities Use License Agreement with the Non-University User. Any changes to the standard University Facilities Use License Agreement must first be reviewed and approved by the Office of General Counsel. The term of the License Agreement shall not exceed one year but may be renewed for additional one-year terms, in the University's sole discretion.
- F. Any changes to the approved application must be resubmitted as a revised application for review and approval in accordance with Section V.B. The Non-University User shall not implement any changes unless and until the revised application is approved by the University.

VI. ACCOUNTING AND OVERSIGHT ISSUES
