ISSUE

In 2020, the College of Arts and Humanities’ Department of Women’s Studies was renamed the Harriet Tubman Department of Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies. In the spring of 2021, the undergraduate major and upper-division certificate program titles in Women’s Studies were also changed to Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies. This proposal is to rename the Master of Arts in “Women’s Studies” to “Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies.” The master’s program is not a stand-alone M.A. program. However, on the way to a Ph.D., students who have completed the appropriate coursework may request conferral of a master’s degree. The proposal will align the program with the department and undergraduate program names, and also reflect the current scope of the Ph.D. program. A separate proposal has been submitted to rename the Ph.D. program.

The proposal was approved administratively by the Graduate School PCC committee on October 27, 2021, and the Senate Programs, Curricula, and Courses committee on November 5, 2021.

RECOMMENDATION(S)

The Senate Committee on Programs, Curricula, and Courses recommends that the Senate approve this name change.

COMMITTEE WORK

The committee considered this proposal at its meeting on November 5, 2021 as part of its consent agenda. A presentation was not required because previous proposals to change the names of the department and the undergraduate programs were approved by the committee. The PCC Committee approved the proposal.

ALTERNATIVES

The Senate could decline to approve this new program title.

RISKS

If the Senate declines to approve this program title change, the current program will not adequately describe the coursework and activities of the program.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

There are no significant financial implications for program title changes.

Program and Catalog Information

Catalog Program Requirements:

Thesis option: 31 credits

Non-thesis option: 31 credits

Women's Studies does not have a stand-alone M.A. program. However, on the way to a Ph.D., students who have completed the appropriate coursework may request conferral of a master's degree. Students will begin the graduate program with a sequence of courses that include the required core interdisciplinary courses for a total of 31 credits and finish with either the completion of a thesis or the 'general' examination. This portion of the program stresses interdisciplinary Master's courses offered in the Department of Women's Studies.

Students must pass the General Exam and pass the 2-year paper with an oral defense
Non-Thesis Option:
Students must pass the General Exam
Total Credits		31

Program Modification Information

Impact on current students. It should be specifically acknowledged that students enrolled in the program prior to the effective date of any curriculum change may complete their program under the old requirements if they wish. The courses required must remain available, or suitable substitutions specifically designated.

Renaming Program

Provide a rationale for renaming the program.

The Department of Women's Studies has been renamed the Harriet Tubman Department of Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies. This change will bring the master's program and department into alignment. The Department does not accept students into a terminal Master's program, however doctoral students can earn it in the course of their studies or if they leave before completing the Ph.D.
